

Artmart, St. Louis' premier art supply store is inspiring creativity in children through its "Say Yes to Art" Artist Ambassador program. The program was designed to introduce you to art and creativity. Area artist and teacher, Marla Dell, Artmart's official Art Ambassador, travels around the St. Louis area teaching art classes at hospitals, community centers and senior care facilities. All supplies are donated by Artmart, so classes are offered no charge. Bring a friend; it's more fun. Pre-register at least one week prior to each class date, by calling Tiffany Hawes at 314.994.2402. Minimum participation is 3 kids with a maximum of 13 per class. Dress to get a little messy!
